The Price of Silver; Myth or Reality

Treasury Silver "Raid" Continues; Metal Retail $3 Oz.

If prices of silver dollars without numismatic value are any indication of the actual price of silver, it can be stated unequivocally that silver bullion on the retail market commands $2 an ounce.

Indeed, the lowest price at which the commonest uncirculated silver dollars, i.e. full weight silver dollar, sell is $1.50 per coin. Illustrating examples are the Morgan 1883-O, 1884-O, 1885-O, 1886-O, 1886-P, 1887-P, and of more recent vintage the 1922-P and 1923-P Peace type silver dollars.

Since these brilliant uncirculated silver dollars are by definition full weight, non abraded coins and represent no numismatic value, the only reason for their acquisition is intrinsic value or silver content. As such the public is willing to pay a 50 per cent premium over face value which is $1.

Considering the silver dollar is monetized at $1.293 an ounce for silver, or otherwise stated, at the official government price for silver a cartwheel is worth exactly one dollar in silver bullion content; it is axiomatic, the public is thus in effect paying a 50 per cent premium over the pegged government price or $1.49 per ounce of silver.

To the apologists of cheap silver at any and all cost, these simple economic facts may come as a surprise, and no doubt are labeled "hoarding craze" or even less flattering epithets. These frail theories were once again dispelled last week when American Metals Market, "the only daily newspaper of the metal industries" reported that silver bars "bring $2 to $3 per ounce" at the New York Coin show held at the Henri Hudson Hotel some two weeks ago.

Reported A.M.M.: "Miniature silver bars weighing about three to seven ounces were being sold at the three-day New York Coin Show in the Henry Hudson Hotel at a retail price of about $3 per ounce and to distributors at about $2 per ounce. Out West the miniature bars fetch about $1.50 per ounce. The going market price for silver is $1.2929 or a shade higher.

"The bars were termed 'numismatic items' but some collectors and dealers were not particularly pleased at their introduction for real coin collectors. Sales of the small bars with either the JMC or Spiral imprint did not appear to be on a large scale. One seller said 'distributorships' were being set up to get sales rolling.

"Philip Rosenbaum, chairman of the show and authority on collecting and coin investment, estimated that about 15,000 collectors and others attended the show with displays by about 90 dealers. Many 'bag' or pseudo dealers and parttime 'operators' were also there on Friday, Saturday and Sunday."

During the New York show, dealer opinions on the silver question were as varied as colorful but almost unanimously pointed at higher silver prices.

Coin Dealers' Views

The chairman of the event, Philip Rosenbaum, suggested "that the U.S. subsidiary coins best be kept as they are and that the Treasury might buy silver at nearly $1.38 per ounce when the supply gets extremely low. He claims more metal could be obtained at that price. He also mentioned a dual price. Mr. Rosenbaum said certificate redemption sales should continue, but he also intimated that the Treasury might set up three reserves—one each for coinage, essential industry and strategic needs. He predicted that the dollar coin 'is gone' for public circulation, and that the new 1964 cartwheels to be minted in 1965 minting may have already begun at Denver) will 'go underground immediately and command a fancy premium.'"

More convincing even than coin collectors' attitudes are the prices fetched by silver on the New York silver futures market, where speculators are actually paying $1.37 an ounce for silver deliverable one year hence; this in the face of convertibility of silver certificates for Treasury bullion at $1.293 an ounce.

Grave doubts have been raised about the Treasury's ability to withstand these "raids" on its silver reserves. According to a research bulletin of a big brokerage firm "there continues to be a risk of cessation of silver certificate redemption by the U.S. Treasury at $1.293 per ounce and a possible subsequent rise in the price of silver."

More recently, Senator Wallace F. Bennett -R of Utah uttered serious concern over the dwindling U.S. Treasury silver reserves and termed the heavy withdrawals as "raids". Senator Bennett has always submitted these "raids" constitute in effect indiscriminate liquidation of a valuable national asset, an opinion easily substantiated by recent disastrous developments in the silver situation.

Senator Bennett's views on the silver question have been proven of considerable validity; it was he who stated on April 29, 1963 before the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency, during the Silver Purchase Act repeal hearings (H.R. 5389): "if we adopt this bill in the form it passed the House, we are going to be back here in a few years saying that industry has drawn so heavily by surrendering its $1 silver certificates that you have got to have additional help to protect this needed silver for coinage."

It has taken exactly 18 months for Senator Bennett's prophesy to be realized. The statement he made was offered in rebuttal of the benign assurances about H.R. 5389 made by Secretary Dillon who in effect stated that after Repeal of the Silver Purchase Act, the silver market would stabilize at $1.20, and that Treasury silver reserves would be adequate for 15 or 20 years—these allegations have since been disproved.

Recent developments prompted Senator Bennett to say: "during the past year, the U.S. Treasury stock of silver has been depleted by over 250 million ounces. The depletion during the last few months has been at a much higher rate.

"In fact, if today were an average day, our stockpile of silver would have dropped between one and two million ounces.

"This is literally a raid, legal though it may be, on Treasury silver. Yet, the Treasury is unable under present conditions to stop it.

"It is a raid because the price ($1.2929 per ounce) being paid for silver is significantly below what it would be if the free market forces of supply and demand were allowed to determine prices.

"The Treasury is unable to put a stop to the raid because to do so in the absence of prior action to protect our coinage would leave us stranded without coins with which to transact business.

"The Utah Senator, who is the ranking Republican on the Senate Banking and currency Committee, pointed out that in 1963 the U.S. produced only one-sixth of its silver needs and had a domestic deficit of 181 million ounces.

Fed As Educational Institution

A Selected Bibliography of Money and Currency

By Christian F. Verbeke

DISTRICT Federal Reserve Banks perform a variety of services; the most salient ones include the clearing and collecting of checks, the distribution of coins and currency, performance of certain fiscal duties, supervision and examination of commercial banks, operation of discount window and management of security portfolios.

Lesser known, however, are the information and educational functions performed by the Federal Reserve System and its individual District Banks, twelve in all. Amidst the Fed's many activities, one deserves particular recognition: its wide variety of publications on economics, finance and money; industry surveys, and periodicals issued by the respective districts.

The Fed's most vocal detractors usually limit themselves to a subjective critique of this institution's sometimes controversial monetary policies. Regardless of the validity of these criticisms directed at the Fed and its philosophies, this institution's constructive attitude in educating the general public on money matters should be given proper recognition.

Coin collectors can no longer ignore the economic implications which surround contemporary numismatics, the often adverse publicity surrounding the hobby is ample evidence to that effect. Much of numismatics' ills today stem from misinformation or outright distortion of the facts if not from total ignorance of the basic functions performed by United States paper and metallic currencies. These factors have been amply covered in past issues of PACE; it is felt, however, that many of the Federal Reserve System publications and monographs can add considerable knowledge to a coin collector's repertoire. Many publications released by the Fed deserve inclusion in serious numismatic libraries which attempt to break away from the commonplace, and unfortunately, sometimes mercantilistic, subject matter offered to the average collector.

Publications of general monetary interest issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System proper include:

Producers Present Silver

The following facts on the silver shortage have been compiled by the Silver Producers' Committee of the American Mining Congress, except for some notations.

In the United States and the rest of the Free World the current annual demand for silver is greater than the amount being produced each year. In 1963, the Free World used approximately twice as much silver as it produced.

This imbalance creates a critical problem for the United States because of the high silver content in U. S. coins, coupled with increasing industrial uses.

Compounding the problem is the continuing depletion of the U.S. Treasury's silver reserves, and a coin shortage aggravated by hoarding. (Note: In October redemption "sales" by the Treasury were about 44,000,000 ozs. and coinage took about 22,000,000 ozs. This plus more recent outflow reduced the U. S. monetary reserve backing certificates to about 1.2 billion ozs.)

The silver content in U. S. coins — which has since remained

"Similarly, consumption worldwide was almost twice that of production — 419 million ounces compared to 210 million ounces.

"Most of this difference was made up by the U.S. Treasury which sold 185 million ounces from its stockpile. It is estimated that the outflow this year will be about 265 million ounces and 350 million ounces in 1965, Senator Bennett said."

Senator Bennett's Proposal

"Senator Bennett outlined this program of action to forestall a silver crisis:

—No more standard silver dollars should be minted since they have only 'sentimental' value and consume badly needily silver.

—The silver content of dimes, quarters, and 50-cent pieces should be reduced to about 33 1/3 per cent from the present 90 percent level.

—During the transitional period when coinage system is changed, the Treasury must hold the price of silver below the $1.38 level because at that point the

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW!

Regarding the 1964 Pointed and Blunt tail 9 Dimes

The Pointed tail 9 is rare, the Blunt tail 9 is common, this is our opinion from a lengthy detailed research. There are less than 2,000,000 Pointed tail 9 1964-P dimes, with over 300,000,000 Blunt tail 9's with the balance of this year and next year this could mean up to 1,000,000,000 yes, one billion, Blunt tail 9 dimes of 1964-P will be available. When you consider the ratio 2,000,000 and 1,000,000,000 you have a rare item.

The 1964-D Pointed tail 9 isn't as rare but only some 47,000,000 are out in comparison to up to 2,000,000,000, yes two billion Blunt tail 9's. The U.S. Mint is out to flood the market! And they will. But the more they make the more rare the Pointed tail 9 dime will be!

The pattern is the same as the 1960 small date cents. They were struck the early part of the year, thereafter all large dates; so be it hereafter all Blunt tail 9 dimes.

The 1964 Proof sets have the same variety, again the Pointed tail 9 is in a strict minority, only 35,000 similar to the 1960 small date proof set mintage. Over 3,000,000 1964 proof sets will be made, thus 2,965,000 will be of the Blunt type!

We have a limited supply of this promising dime variety.

The Cleaning and Protection of Coins

The Do's And Don't's of a Controversial Art

By Nelson Haney

I have noticed several articles in the coin publications advising collectors not to clean their coins and to pay no attention to cleaning particulars. Assuming that this is good advice then how does a collector know if he is buying a cleaned coin for his collection? If a coin is cleaned properly not even self appointed experts can tell the difference. Even if you are willing to take the advice of these articles then don't you think you should find out how the majority of the coin cleaners operate so you can recognize a cleaned coin when you see it?

As widely as opinions differ in numismatics I don't see how anyone can tell you how you desire your coins to look. At least this is not our objective. This is something we leave up to the individual concerned, and only try to educate him to the fact that certain methods and chemicals will give him a certain result.

This knowledge certainly cannot hurt anyone, and you can't harm a coin by removing the dirt and corrosion, if the coin can be brought back to a prior state of condition superior to its present state.

One story that came to me concerned a dealer who had purchased some uncirculated Lincoln cents that were dirty. You could see the mint lustre under the dirt. Because of this he had to offer $6.00 coins for $2.00. It came to mind that he would clean a few of these coins and mark the unc. price on the coins. A collector friend who had been collecting for a number of years began to buy the unc. coins at $6.00 instead of the AU's at $2.00. After the sale had been transacted the dealer told his friend what he had done and that ended the friendship.

This certainly proves that a person can be a victim of sticking to old ways of thinking, and not willing to accept new ones. These coins were unc. to start with, and only tarnish from storage, what was the harm in returning them to their unc. state.

Let me say not all coins can be improved by cleaning. Be sure the coin can be improved by cleaning first, then ask your dealer what process is best for this particular coin. Then try out this method on pocket change first. After you learn what the cleaner will do, and you have decided what you want the coin to look like once you have finished, you are ready to clean your more valuable specimens.

I don't think you will be sorry that it has been suggested that you learn something about the art of cleaning coins.

Do the cleaning of some coins require an expert? . . .

I say with the proper information, and through trial and error from your pocket change, you should be able to do about as good a job of cleaning as anyone. But it is possible that a coin might require the attentions of experience with certain additional equipment to do the job. For instance, the silent sound method may be very helpful if you had three tubs full of coins to clean as you could clean a great number at one time. This requires an expert because you need a different chemical for different metals. Knowledge of the length of time the coins must be left in the solution, and other technical information is also required. Most people are familiar to some extent with the silent sound process as this is commonly used in jewelry stores for cleaning watches and rings. The objects are cleaned by the vibration of sound waves. But of course this is not practical for the average collector as the time required to load up and clean up would prohibit the use of it on limited basis.

You will see many of the old rare type coins where an expert job has been done to repair the coin, such as filling a hole in the coin, and then trying to use some sort of process to make the repair work un-noticable. But upon close observation with a magnifying glass, these can easily be detected. In case it becomes necessary to repair a coin, you may need a specialist to try and get the coin in presentable shape. Most coins worthy of repair are of the extremely rare type. Although this fact cannot be hidden from a prospective buyer, these coins are in demand, and therefore repairs may be advisable.

On gold coins, it is not unusual to find soldered spots on the coins, as these coins have been and are very popular for cuff links, stick pins, bracelets, etc. In the years past the jewelers would solder the coin to the jewelry piece, normally ruining its numismatic value. However, in many cases this solder can be removed leaving little or no trace.

Gold is a metal that will withstand many strong acids. In fact, people who buy old rings and watches etc. for the gold content sometimes use acids to get the gold away from the metal. By putting a ring in acid for instance, the acid will eat up the metal, leaving only the gold. This idea will also work to remove the solder on gold. Sulphuric or hydrochloric acid may be used. Either of these acids will dissolve the solder and leave the gold unharmed. Use as dilute a solution as possible for the job.

Nowadays, holder rings are available in solid gold, silver, or gold filled for almost every coin made. These rings are easy to open for insertion or removal of coins which makes the soldering unnecessary. Usually if the coin has been soldered with a silver solder, this type is much harder to remove by the acid method; however, most coins that were soldered several years ago were soldered with lead or zinc.

As I see the hobby of collection coins, it is one of the most gratifying hobbies known to man. Collecting coins dates all the way back in the old testament to Joseph who was said to be a coin collector. So I say, why collect coins in the first place if no study is given to the cleaning and preserving coins for generations to see in the future. Coins to me are historical pieces. Each coin is and always will be a marker of time, or certain happenings, and in many cases answers questions of those who may be curious, who might never have thought to ask in the first place.

I can't see how any man, woman, or child can collect coins without asking, "what's the VDB for on a Lincoln Cent", or "why did they put D mint marks on gold that was made before the time of the Denver mint," or "why did they call some dollars, Peace Dollars". An Indian cent made in the seventies will stir an imagination and take you back to early Western days. Dream a little more and you can see Lincoln when he paid for his bread with Indian head cents or maybe large cents for that matter.

You may say "What has this to do with cleaning coins? The coins we are collecting today are not kept properly. Within proper storage, the untold millions of people who will live in our country and abroad in generations to come may never get the satisfaction we did by looking back on coins that were made about the time of the first television, or the first satellite to hit the moon. We are living in the age of the silver and copper coins, and nickels.

Gold coins in the U.S. are gone except for collector's items or an occasional jewelry piece. We love our gold coins because they represent something to us of our early history, and too, the magic word gold will always bring about a conversation. Who knows, we already hear talk about the government making plastic coins. This is not too unbelievable; just look at our dollars: they are made of paper. Or maybe they will have to save plastic someday and give us all a credit card to buy our goods so we can't spend any more money than they want us to have.

Even so, its my belief that we would have many collectors collecting credit cards, then someone would have to come up with ways of cleaning and preserving credit cards. In this case, we would still have those among us that would say, "Don't clean your credit cards".

To clean coins does not mean you should clean a coin for the sake of cleaning, but only if it can be done to the liking of the majority who enjoy the fun of collecting coins. You stop corrosion action by cleaning a coin. You stop carbon spots by cleaning coins. You remove tarnish by cleaning coins. Anytime any one of these things begins to happen to your coins, they must be cleaned. How could this not help numismatics. If our collectors can be taught how this can be done without damaging their coins, then why would this not be a benefit?

There was the time of the thirty pieces of silver that were given to betray Jesus. These silver coins are popular today. Fortunately, we had collectors then, and these coins are still available. It is not practical to think that it has not become necessary to clean at least some of these coins in one form or another since that time. If you had one and it began to corrode, wouldn't it be necessary to find a way to preserve the coin for the next generation?

In most cases if a coin is properly cleaned of its corrosion, placed in some type of holder other than paper, kept in a dry place and out of the sunlight, it will stay just the way you leave it for years to come. Of course handling coins, taking them in and out, finger printing them and so on requires reprocessing from time to time.

I have been asked the question, "is the bank vault a good place to store coins?" One thing for sure this is the safest place, and if it is a very valuable collection, its going to be the best place under any circumstances. However, as for the proper place to store coins would depend on the different changes of temperature which causes sweating, the particular climate you may be in, and to what exposure the bank boxes may have to humidity. These are some of the reasons your coins may corrode.

I would advise you to look at your coins ever so often for signs of corrosion. If you catch this in time, no harm will be done as compared to an automobile that may have begun to rust. If you catch it in time, you can head it off.

On some of the older proof sets, I have noticed the nickels and cents tend to corrode faster than the other coins. The cents are a little harder to process against corroding than nickels, but it can be done very effectively.

If you are storing rolls, seal

Minting Of Dollars Delayed

It is reported that the Treasury has again postponed minting of the silver dollars with a 1964 date. Production of 45 million containing about 33 million ounces of silver is still planned, possibly next year.

These choice collector cartwheels already have a theoretical value of $5 each, as quoted for future delivery by certain coin dealers.

DUAL SYSTEM

...The Numismatic Market's First And Only Fully Automatic, Dual System Teletype Network

FULLY AUTOMATIC!

USCE's new "Dual System" is the ultimate in numismatic teletype equipment! NO waiting to get on the line. NO line contention. NO message interference. All messages are sent at maximum speed by punched tape. All you do is place your message tape in the transmitter. No need to wait at the machine . . . you can attend to other matters in the shop. Your message will be picked up by the automatic polling system which polls every station in turn, assuring every member an equal opportunity to use the lines.

DOUBLE CAPACITY!

The all-new model 28 ASR Automatic Tape Machines send and receive SIMULTANEOUSLY. That means that the United States Coin Exchange now has twice the present capacity of any other teletype network. Only the "Dual System" gives you 60 minutes per hour sending time—and 60 minutes per hour receiving time. Simultaneous sending and receiving also means that relays are not interrupted by outgoing messages. Thus messages are received by all stations at approximately the same time . . . keeping the market current even during the busiest trading hours.

NEWLY EXPANDED MARKET!

USCE offers you the largest teletype market in the numismatic field. The membership of the American Numismatic Exchange will be consolidated with USCE, bringing the number of active, trading members on the one network to OVER 300. Consider the tremendous purchasing and selling resources of this market. Your earnings as a teletype dealer are directly proportional to the quality of your teletype service . . . and the number of dealers on the network. And the USCE "Dual System" can efficiently service over 300 dealers.

MEMBERSHIPS NOW AVAILABLE!

The expanded facilities of USCE's new "Dual System" have greatly increased the number of dealers that can be serviced on the exchange. Memberships are now available in most geographical areas at $280 per month; slightly higher in Canada. For more information on how USCE's ultimate new teletype system can help you increase your business, write or call . . .

present coins would be worth as much for their silver content as they would be as money.

—The new coinage system must be such that it will not need to be changed in the foreseeable future.

—The transition must be completed rapidly.

"Senator Bennett said it is desirable to keep some silver content in our coins. He said there would be 'an adverse psychological reaction to complete abandonment of previous metal in our coinage system' and that 'silver has a stabilizing effect.'"

"He emphasized that silver content would be a bar to counterfeiting of coins. Senator Bennett stressed that early action is mandatory. He warned over a year ago that the Treasury had at the most only two or three years to act."

them air tight, and I have found tin foil wrappers are very good for storage. If your coins do damage in storage, before you decide to sell them at a discount, be sure nothing can be done to restore them properly. You will be surprised what can be done, and how simple it is to do if you take the time to investigate the art of cleaning coins.

Cleaning Uncirculated and Circulated Nickels

Not over four or five years ago it was general opinion that nickels turned black from oxidation and were beyond cleaning from any method, but of course many people know at this time that nickels can be cleaned and very effectively, both uncirculated, circulated, and highly corroded.

One of the most important devices in cleaning circulated nickels has been the introduction of the copper or brass wire brush.

The very thought of brushing a circulated 1950-D nickel with a copper wire brush is revolting, but to change a corroded 50-D into one that's as desirable as any other is not revolting. But we all know the first thing taught a new collector is not to scratch his coins.

While we are on the subject of the brush, many people will be surprised to know the copper wire brush is not new in cleaning coins, but is new as it is now being used. When we say copper wire brush, we do not mean, "any copper wire brush" as this idea would be disastrous. The secret is that the metal in the brush bristles must be softer than the metal in the coin, and must be of the finest bristles that can be had. This type brush is OK but only if you leave the bristles as soft when you use it the second time as it was at the beginning.

A common fault is that the brush is allowed to dry out in the solution. This will leave the bristles stiff and hard and will damage your coin. Simply wash the brush out well as you would a paint brush, and be sure to loosen the bristles by testing the brush on a coin from your pocket change. One of the most common uses of the brush before today's era in coins, was to use it without any chemical on copper coins, most commonly used on large cents to get a certain color or tone. The new process is used more effectively with a chemical.

This process was introduced by the Nic-A-Lene Co. Simply put a couple of drops of Nic-A-Lene solution on the nickel, and brush with the brush provided. Dry with a soft cloth, but do not rinse with water. Be sure all the solution is wiped or dried off after cleaning. One of the most common faults here is that after you have cleaned a number of coins you are still using the same cloth. Naturally, the cloth will become saturated with the solution, now you are not completely removing the chemical. Plus the fact that most people will not bother to read the instructions carefully, and they will wash off with water. Either or both of these common faults will leave your nickel with a color or tarnish, though sometimes it will not show up for a couple of days.

You will find that your wartime nickels will clean up easier and better than the others and will leave your nickels as natural as can be. Cleaning nickels by this process becomes easier for the average person than cleaning the cents. The cents can be cleaned effectively by the same process but since a circulated copper coin does not look natural when cleaned, a new solution had to be devised for this purpose.

You may also clean uncirculated nickels effectively with this process, whether, V nickels, Buffalo, or Jeffer-

EXTRA SPECIAL

WORLD'S FASTEST MAIL SERVICE

IN AT 9 A.M. OUT AT 2 P.M. SAME DAY

Our 2 P.M. mail pick up will go out 8:30 A.M. following morning. We airmail all small packages and letters. All other packages go out special handling which gives you first class mail service.

PHONE ORDERS ACCEPTED

PLEASE HONOR YOUR PHONE ORDERS!

We guarantee you we will hold any order 3 days or 72 hours from the time call came in.

OUR OWN LAY AWAY PLAN

For your convenience, by popular demand, tailored to fit your needs, not ours. We will send you a contract to sign, properly filled in, as soon as you tell what you want to buy. Immediately upon receiving your signed contract, your order will be packed, sealed and put in our safe for delivery to you upon receipt of final payment. Minimum lay-away order $100.00. Minimum down payment is 20% of your order. Financed at 1% or less per month. When calling, except for Unc. rolls and Proof Sets, please ask for Joe, Jr. or Charles Chancellor.

Joe Flynn, Sr. &amp; Jr.

$SILVER DOLLARS

100% SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Silver Dollars still hold the limelight, and I expect even more interest in dollar collecting in 1965. Many silver dollars dating back to 1878 can still be purchased in uncirculated condition for only double face value. What other uncirculated coin can you get for such a low price?

A 1949-S dime BU, with a mintage of 13.5 million sells for 130 times its face value, or a premium of $12.90, while a BU 1879-S dollar with a mintage of only 9.1 million sells for only 2 times its face value, or a one dollar premium. Furthermore, 1949-S dimes are still found in general circulation, but where can you find a silver dollar in circulation? With the price of silver sure to go up in the near future, most silver dollars will be melted, thereby making those that remain numismatically more valuable.

No wonder the old "Cartwheel" is the best bargain in the coin market today.

LUXEMBOURG

Total Mintage 20,000

Patina Finish Mintage only 7,500

Regular Finish Mintage only 12,500

250 Franc

1963 Luxembourg millenary crown

Only 20,000 250 Franc 1963 Silver Crowns were minted according to our representative currently on a numismatic buying trip throughout Europe. This was the first time the Brussels Mint ever produced a coin larger than 100 Francs for Luxembourg and the edition is legally terminated. No more will be struck!

We were lucky in securing directly from sources in Luxembourg a consignment of these special crowns with a unique Patina Finish protected in hard plastic cases by mint officials. These coins will forever be perfect and free from nicks and scratches, commonly referred to as "bag marks." This unusual finish imparts a spectral coloration and has been designated for only 7500 of the Millenary Crowns. Therefore, they are quite rare and already considered Collectors Items! With a face value of over $5.00, this coin is sure to be an ideal future investment. We predict that this coin will be selling for over $25.00 in less than six months.

Presently our supplies appear to be sufficient to fill most orders. But, when they are exhausted we will be required to buy these at a premium and our price will have to increase.

Cleaning

son.

Cleaning and Toning
Copper Coins

Opinions on how to clean and tone copper coins, or maybe I should have said, opinions on which tone is the most beautiful differ widely.

To clean properly and tone, starting with uncopper coins, you will find several different products on the market. Some of these processes are pleasing and leave your coins looking natural, but some don't. As I have said before, I am not trying to educate you as to how you want your coin to look, except that it should look natural, but only to try and show you how to get certain results, and then its up to you.

The most common fault on cleaning a copper coin is using the wrong method which leaves the coin pink or too bright. This generally speaking is because you are using the wrong solution for the wrong purpose, and it is my belief this may be one of the reasons a copper toner was initiated. The best process I know of is again used with the brush method, and a product known as Nic-A-Tone. Nic-A-Tone is a cleaner with a toner added.

You simply place a couple of drops of Nic-A-Tone

WHY ORDER FROM THE DOWDS?

As the largest Canadian dealers in the States, we offer you a stock that is located in the States. When you order from us, there is no prolonged period of waiting for your merchandise to clear Customs, therefore no Customs fees. Also you do not have to take the risk of having your mint sealed bag opened at the borders.

In the long run it is cheaper and safer to become another one of the Dowds' satisfied clients.

Canadians please note our Canadian address. When shipping to our Canadian customers, we ship either Parcel Post or Rail Express from Montreal, again avoiding Customs.

on your coin and start brushing. The coin immediately comes clean and bright, as you keep brushing the coin gradually begins to tone. With this process, you can stop the brushing process at any time you feel the toning suits your taste. Wipe lightly with a soft cloth, when the coin becomes perfectly dry you have a beautiful tone. If the tone does not meet with your approval, just simply clean with Nic-A-Lene, (But with a different brush), and start over.

The Nic-A-Tone solution is a combination of cleaner and toner. This method may not work out on a badly corroded coin as by the time the cleaning solution was allowed to clean the coin, your toning chemical would have your coin very black.

For cleaning and toning some circulated copper coins, it may be necessary for you first to clean the coin with a Nic-A-Lene by the same method as cleaning a nickel, and toning the coin once you have the

ANNOUNCING

Second Annual National RCDA Convention in Syracuse, New York . . . June 24-27, 1965, to be held in the War Memorial Auditorium, with Mr. E. J. Schermett, as our national chairman. The RCDA is making every effort to make the Second Annual National RCDA Convention one of the finest and largest to be held in the United States. Bourse space is limited to RCDA members only. Bourse tables are $100.00 each, and the bourse tables are 10 feet, with 8 feet aisles, as the War Memorial Auditorium is very spacious. Bourse tables will be open from 10:00 A.M., to 10:00 P.M. Street level entrance, with employed help to assist the dealers in unloading their material to the Security Room, and to assist the dealers in loading out after the convention ends. Armed security guards, and plain clothed secret RCDA men will be on duty during the entire convention. Catering service is provided to all dealers who do not wish to leave their bourse tables. Adequate lighting is provided, and air conditioning is provided if needed. All attending the convention must register, but no charge will be made to the public. For further information on the convention, write to Mr. E. J. Schermett, 631-33 South Geddes Street, Syracuse, New York, or to RCDA, Inc., Box 536, Denison, Texas. Early bourse reservation will assure you of your table, as almost half of the tables have already been reserved.

The Century Sale

ENGLEWOOD, OHIO—The officers and directors of Paramount International Coin Corporation of Englewood, Ohio announced today the acquisition other collection marketed in recent years.

As a sample of the great rarities in this sale we mention the first United States mint issues of 1792.

a lifetime opportunity" for the private collector or museum desiring these pieces.

The half cents from 1793 through 1857 include superb specimens of the earlier dates including 1796 with pole and the seldom offered 1796 without pole varieties. The 1802 with the reverse of 1800 is included as is the extremely rare 1811 restrike with the reverse of 1802; one of only six specimens struck. The remarkable and rare half cent in the 1840's are complete . . . one each of the large and small berries is represented of each date.

The galaxy of large cents includes an uncirculated 1793 chain AMERI. variety . . . just one of the many coins which should generate tremendous excitement in this sale. The famous 1795 Jefferson head cent; choice 1799 perfect date and overdate cents and many other spectacular coins in this series are offered.

The collector of United States minor coins will find the uncirculated and proof flying eagle, Indian and Lincoln cents, all complete, to be of interest. Of for sale by auction of one of the finest collections of American copper and silver coins ever assembled.

The collection, to be offered as "THE CENTURY

The Century Sale includes the extremely rare 1792 disme in copper; the unique 1792 half disme in copper; the 1792 silver center cent without silver

SALE", is virtually complete from 1792 to the present day. The quality and completeness of this collection exceeds any center and the unique 1792 white metal pattern half eagle. The offering of these coins will represent what is truly a "once in

5000 S-MINT CENTS

PLUS: 1 each 1924-D and 1931-D Cents

YES . . .

I've been hoarding a lot of S-mint cents as a speculation. My office manager has convinced me that I can't afford to tie up my money, that in fact it must keep turning. Anyway, we took about 30 bags of circulated S-mint cents and mixed them together. Every date is included in some quantity from 1941-S thru 1955-S, and a handful of cents before 1940-S are mixed in. Finally, just to make things taste good, I've added the following cents to EACH AND EVERY BAG:

1 1924-D                      1 1931-D
1 1926-S                      5 other semi-keys

NOW—I'll tell you what I'm gonna do: For just one thin check, the 25th part of a checkbook, I'm going to ship you these 5002 cents (express charges collect) for

SOUTHEASTERN NUMISMATIC EXCHANGE, INC.

Check these advantages offered by Southeastern Numismatic Exchange:

The finest relay system available from A T & T. Messages are taped as sent - no editing or retyping to induce errors - automatically stored and introduced to the proper circuit whenever a pause in traffic occurs, giving fast, frequent inter-circuit communications - enables members to "talk" back and forth between circuits in a short time span. Relays come a few at a time, as they are sent, eliminating long waits for accumulated relays.

Member backup advertising in national publications, including individual member listings.
Live units on the exchange in action at many conventions, available to members to contact home offices, buy and sell, etc.

Reliable Membership - the financial ability of each applicant is determined before he is admitted to the exchange. Up to date credit reports are kept on file on all members, available to members at any time. Exchange rules are strictly enforced.

A VERY HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR TO YOU, AND YOU AND ESPECIALLY YOU!

As many of you know, several months ago we withdrew from the Mail Order Silver Dollars Business. The reasons for this were many and were obvious. To many of the very satisfied friends and customers we found that this was a disappointment.

The past few months have indeed been most interesting! But the best is yet to come! Let's call a "Spade a Spade" when the throat cutting, discount, double stamp days are "Gone with the Wind" (and this is not too far off) you will see the Silver Dollar emerge as the "thoroughbred" she really is, and the "class of the Field." Stop and really think — carefully examine and analyze every aspect of this truly great coin along with every other series in American Numismatics and I am sure that you will come up with some startling answers.

To see this distinguished lady being "kicked in the teeth", and degraded the way she is at the present time makes me sick and my "Blood Boil." I intend to do everything in my power and lend all the strength I have to presenting at all times this most important of the U. S. Coins in its true perspective. Many of the prices listed below may seem high but are actually low. Right now only one thing matters to me and that is that honest, stable prices prevail, at this present writing, this is the way I see it.

It could very well be that I still have a lot to learn about cold-blood of business facts and tactics and whether orders come in or not, "I am going to call 'em the way I see 'em." Someone once said "if you don't like the sight of blood, get out of the war." Let this message be one of the tournequets on the arm of a gallant lady who who is very much on her feet and is one of the few things left in this country outside of our personal freedom for which the rest of the world has any respect.

I have been in the Silver Dollar Business for nearly fifteen years, and I pledge to you fair grading and prompt personal attention to all of your Numismatic needs, whether it be a single coin, roll or bag.

If you order and we are out, we will conscientiously try for 24 hours to come up with what you want or your money will be returned to you, AirMail (no "setting" on your hard earned money.)

LONG LIVE THE QUEEN!

Cleaning

coin clean.

After a copper coin has turned black or green it is very hard to clean. The soaking process may be the only answer. Put this type coin in glass or plastic container, put enough Nic-A-Lene solution to completely cover the coin and let it soak a few minutes. Take the coin out and brush with the brush provided, repeat process until your coin comes clean. The Green copper coins are sometimes impossible to clean without further harming the coin. This same process is the best one I know of.

One thing to beware of, do not allow your coin to dry out in the solution, keep enough solution to completely cover the coin at all times when soaking, when cleaning with the brush, be sure you wipe thoroughly when you are ready to stop your process. After you have cleaned this badly corroded coin, then you decide to tone it, just simply tone it as described in the above paragraphs.

Cleaning and toning copper coins is a task that requires some practical experience. Get a few cents out of your pocket change and give it a try. While your brush is new the time element of getting your toning action started seems a little too long, but the longer you use your brush, the quicker the action will commence. Do not use your brush for another purpose while cleaning or toning. Use a Nic-A-Lene brush for Nic-A-Lene, and a toning brush for tone. If you do use these brushes back and forth, it will be necessary for you to thoroughly clean and dry the brush before changing. If you do not follow these instructions, your process will not work satisfactorily.

Let me say again, some coins do not require cleaning and toning. If the coin looks natural, and is not dirty or corroded, then you have nothing to gain in its cleaning, because the entire purpose of this process is to remove the dirt and corrosion and make the coin look natural. Do not polish or shine your coins to an unnatural look.

coin publications took a dim view on restoring dates. They refused to advertise this restorer process. Why? In most of the coin columns and writings everybody took their stand, but so far, it has never been explained to me how this could possibly deceive anybody, and since numismatics is supposed to be a hobby in the first place, how it could be bad for someone to enjoy the thrill of restoring a date on a worn out nickel, and giving many kids a chance to have a complete collection of nickels with restored dates.

Talking about the fun of collecting, it just may be possible some of these kids get more fun out of the hobby in this way than the big time collectors get out of their $50,000.00 collections. The kid was able to enjoy the hobby for a $1.00 bottle of date restorer total cost except for the face value of the nickels.

Profit wise, thinking in these terms, only the rare dates may be sold for a few dollars after restoring the dates. In order to restore the date it is necessary to etch the coin. The theory is you put a drop of restoring acid on the date area, the acid etches the softer metal faster than the hardest. Since the date has been stamped in the metal, naturally the metal is harder. You are etching the metal around the date which is softer than where the date is stamped, this leaving the date where it can easily be read.

In the area where the acid has etched, a spot is left on the coin. I have been asked many times if this could be done without leaving the spot. The answer is no. Anytime acid etches metal it must leave a spot; however, to make the coin look uniform, you may etch the entire coin instead of only the date area, leaving the coin

"U. S. TREASURY SEALED MINT SETS"

Please compare these prices before you buy. We believe our selling prices are lower and our buying prices higher for these scarce sets. We have sold more of these sets in our store than Proof sets. By comparing sets sold by the U. S. Mint, you will find there were fewer mint sets made than proof sets. These are in the original polyethylene packets as purchased from the U. S. Mint and are not home made sets. THEY HAVE BEEN PACKED LIKE THIS ONLY SINCE 1959. You will receive a total of ten coins, one of each coin from the Philadelphia and Denver Mint.

where the restored effect is not noticable.

At one of the many conventions I have attended demonstrating to everybody and anybody, I noticed a dealer selling undated nickels for $4.00 a roll. Of course this interested me because I was selling date restorers for nickels. One of the kids bought a roll of these nickels and found an overdate buffalo. It wasn't hard for him to get $15.00 for the coin since most any kind of overdate sells for several hundred dollars.

How to Bring Back Luster on Proof and Unc. Coins

Over a period of time a proof or uncirculated coin will pick up tarnish due to certain weather elements, together with change of temperature and humidity; however, it is my opinion that most tarnish comes from the coin being stored on or near paper with a sulphur content. If the coin is ordinarily stored in a humid place, this will start a corroding action and first signs of this are the tiny black specks, and later carbon spots that will actually eat down into the

AIR-TITE MINT SET HOLDERS

AIR-TITE Mint Set Holders are made of heavy, high quality, polished, clear vinyl plastic, 3 1/4" x 5 1/4", about the same overall size as U. S. or Canadian Proof Sets.

- * SIX — Individually connected compartments in each holder.
- * VERSATILE — Use to house mint sets of 2 to 6 coins; cut away pockets not needed.
- * FAST — Insert and seal coins, in seconds, virtually airtight. No hot irons or special tools required for sealing.
- * COST — Much less than high priced plastic holders and still giving top protection.
- * COMPACT — Store two or three times as many sets, in a given area, than bulky plastics.
- * APPEARANCE — Coins in these holders present a better appearance because they are clear, neat and trim.

To remove tarnish on proof and unc. coins is one of easiest projects in cleaning. This is done in a few seconds by simply dipping the coin in a coin dip from a reputable firm and rinsing immediately under running water. If all the tarnish was not removed in the first dip, then repeat the process, do not leave your coin in the dip any longer than two or three seconds before rinsing. After rinsing, be sure the coin is dried perfectly dry with a soft cloth, the less amount of rubbing the better on proof coins when drying, but the coins must be per-

Coin dip usually is made up with a chemical which will very quickly etch your coin if you leave it in the solution too long, but will definitely not hurt your coin if you follow instructions. The most common way to dip coins is by holding the coin by the rim with your thumb and forefinger. Even though the dips will etch your coin faster than other types of cleaners, it will not hurt your hands as much. If you plan to dip very many coins in succession, I

NIC-A-LENE

NIC-A-LENE CLEANS

NICKELS: Shield, Liberty, Buffalo and Jefferson. COPPER COINS: Large Cents, Copper Nickels, Flying Eagles, Indian, Lincoln, All Copper, Brass and Bronze Coins including Civil War Cents. SILVER: Nic-A-Lene will do a nice job on most silver coins, however, it works much slower. STEEL CENTS: Not recommended for use on Steel Cents.

IMPORTANT: Beginners are not encouraged to clean all their coins. Before using Nic-A-Lene on your valued coins we suggest you try it on a coin with no Numismatic value. Nic-A-Lene—used with the brush as directed, leaves no marks visible to the eye. Nic-A-Lene works well on nickels, copper coins and silver, including un-circulated coins. However, for removing tarnish from Proof and Uncirculated Coins, use Nic-A-Spray.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

1. If coin is badly corroded, soak in Nic-A-Lene 5 to 30 minutes, before brushing. (If desired, milder solutions may be achieved by diluting with water.)
2. Place coin in holder, brush and holder included in kit so that it is firmly in position. Place a few drops of Nic-A-Lene on the coin.
3. Brush with a circular motion until corrosion and dirt film has been removed. IMPORTANT: wash brush thoroughly after each use. If allowed to dry in solution, will create a stiffness of bristles, which could cause some damage to coin when used in this condition.
4. Wipe off thoroughly with a clean soft cloth (Nic-A-Rag) before the Nic-A-Lene solution is allowed to dry. NOTE: Failure to wipe thoroughly will result in the remaining corrosion to re-appear within several hours or days.
5. Nic-A-Lene leaves steel cents copper plated when used with brush. Therefore, it is not recommended for cleaning steels. GUN DEALERS: Nic-A-Lene will clean your brass shells without etching.

CAUTION: Excessive contact may cause irritation or discoloration to the skin. Be sure to wash hands thoroughly after using.

NIC-A-TONE

BOTH CLEANS AND TONES COPPER OR BRASS COINS IN ONE SIMPLE OPERATION

INSTRUCTIONS

Place coin in holder provided so that it is firmly in position. Place a few drops of Nic-A-Tone on the coin. Brush with a circular motion until desired shade is reached. Important: wash brush thoroughly after each use. If allowed to dry in solution, will create a stiffness of bristles, which could cause some damage to coin when used in this condition. Wipe off thoroughly with a clean soft cloth before the Nic-A-Tone solution is allowed to dry.

NOTE: Failure to wipe thoroughly will result in the remaining corrosion to re-appear within several hours or days.

NOW YOU CAN GIVE YOUR COPPER COINS THAT NATURAL TONE, UNCLEANNED LOOK IN SECONDS WITH NIC-A-TONE.

NIC-A-DATE

RESTORES DATES ON NICKELS

RESTORES DATES ON NICKELS INSTRUCTIONS: Dates are restored by simply placing a drop of NIC-A-DATE over the date area of the coin. When the date becomes satisfactorily visible, rinse the coin with water and wipe clean. Surfaces may be worn smooth and dates not be visible, however, NIC-A-DATE will bring out the original date. NIC-A-DATE may be questioned from time to time in Numismatics, but the excellent results obtained in restoring dates on nickels has made NIC-A-DATE a PROVEN SELLER. NIC-A-DATE works well on Shields, Liberty, Buffalo and Jefferson Nickels.

Cleaning

would suggest you get a rubber glove, or some device made from plastic with which to dip your coins.

To remove the tiny black specks from coins as mentioned above is not done by the dipping process, however, these specks commonly occur on these type coins. The only way I have found to do this effectively is to dilute Nic-A-Lene 4 to one with water and soak the coin from one to five hours. Then dip a tooth pick in Nic-A-Lene and gently scrub out the speck if the speck has started to eat away the metal, a very minute depression will be left but it will be unnoticable.

In dipping proof and unc. coins, your coin must be proof or unc. for this solution to do any good. If you are trying to dip a circulated coin, you will not find your dips much help.

Sometimes you will find beautiful proof coins which have turned totally black. Upon dipping this coin you will find that it immediately comes back to its old self. Usually, there is not much doubt in anyone's mind the difference between a proof or otherwise, even if the coin is dark; however, if you have a doubt, get the opinion of your local coin club officials or your local dealer.

Here's a thought: One of the factors that most affects the value of a proof piece is the presence or absence of "hairlines" or minute surface scratches. These hairlines will not show on a deeply toned coin. Some dealers will go as far as to "smoke" scratched proofs over a sulphur fire in order to cover these hairlines and then go to great lengths telling the collector what a sin it is to clean the coin after purchase.

The point I am trying to make is that in dipping coins, you can bring out any lusture that may be hidden by tarnish, but you can't put lustre on a coin that's not there in the first place by dipping.

How to Detect Damaged Coins

Some collectors I have come into contact with seem to have the opinion that the cleaning of coins serves as a cover-up for the purpose of making uncirculated coins from circulated. This is not true. On the contrary, just the opposite is. Most coin cleaners will actually clean all the dirt and corrosion out of the nicks and scratches and make them easier to detect as circulated coins.

You will find many coins that are covered up with dirt and corrosion from ordinary exposure to the elements. To try and detect a good coin from pitted or damaged coins before the dirt is removed is sometimes impossible; however, by putting this under a 20 power magnifier you can sometimes tell. Look for ordinary digs, scratches, but most of all, pit marks.

Its very exciting to find some old coins in grandfather's attic, but very discouraging to find they have corroded badly. But I have seen many happy faces when it is found their coins would clean up beautifully. I am also sure, many people will agree circumstances such as these have introduced coin collecting to new collectors. In this way as well as many others, we have new people taking up our hobby of which I think has done much to help people find a hobby they sincerely enjoy.

all in superb condition.

The collection of nickel five cent pieces commences with the first year of issue, 1866, and continues through the present day. The condition is uniformly choice.

The complete collection of United States half dimes includes magnificent specimens of the earlier dates including a choice specimen of the extremely rare and prized 1802.

Commencing with the first date of issue, 1796, the collection of dimes continues through the present day. Highlighting this denomination is the superb 1894-S . . . one of seven or eight known specimens. The Century Sale 1894-S dime is the superb perfect proof specimen which appeared earlier in the World's Greatest Collection and Hydeman Sales. This will truly be a never-to-be-forgotten occasion to obtain one of the most famous of all American coins in the finest possible perfect condition.

The complete collection of twenty cent pieces includes a flawless brilliant uncirculated 1876 Carson City piece. The collection of quarters from 1796 through the present day includes the scarce 1796, the rare 1823 over 2, the extremely rare 1827 and one of the greatest of all American rarities, a coin which has not appeared on the market for many years: a perfect proof specimen of the 1842 small date quarter.

The collection of half dollars represents one of the finest assemblages of this denomination ever offered. From 1794 through the present day the collection is replete with rarity after rarity. An unprecedented opportunity exists with the offering of one of two known 1817 over 14 half dollars . . . the other one being in the Louis Eliasberg collection. One of the rarest and most desired of all American coins, the 1838-O half dollar, is represented by a perfect

The Century Sale catalog is now being written. Tentative plans at this date call for the holding of the auction in New York City in April 1965. The Century Sale represents one of the finest collections ever gathered together in the history of American numismatics. It will rank as one of the most important numismatic events in our history.

Catalogs of this sale may be obtained for $2.00 each (including the list of prices realized after the sale) by writing to: Paramount International Coin Corporation, 1 North Main Street, Englewood, Ohio. To assure receiving a catalog, early orders are recommended. The catalog release date will be March 1965.

Paramount International Coin Corporation is a publicly owned firm with stockholders throughout America. The directors of Paramount are: James F. Ruddy, Honorable Michael V. Di Salle, James F. Kelly and Max J. Humbert. Paramount International Coin Corporation engages in all phases of numismatics and conducts business in all parts of the world.

CANADA SILVER DOLLARS

Still remain the King of Canadian coinage and with the exception of a few dates, prices continue to rise due to the ever increasing demands of the collector and the fact that there just are not enough to go around. There are no huge hoards available and certainly no group has enough of any one date (last two excepted) to materially effect the market.

This definitely places the Canadian silver dollar in the NON-SPECULATIVE class and in one of sound Numismatic Value.

Space City Averages:

How They Are Obtained

With close to 1,500 separate statistics appearing each week in PACE, a need exists to express this information in graphic form for busy readers.

We are currently charting eight different coin series each week as you see below. These charts are based on Space City Averages, an arbitrarily chosen group of rolls which we feel are representative of the total for that series.

To be included in the Space City Averages rolls are chosen on the basis of three factors: (1) their trading is constant, (2) they are widely held, and (3) they are indicative of the series.

It is obvious infrequently traded items, closely held items, and extremes in the series would not serve this purpose.

Each week the statistical staff of PACE prepares these averages from the information obtained on The American Numismatics Exchange transactions.

The amount expressed in the Space City averages is the total market bid prices for the rolls included in the averages. This is a dollar figure and is compared with previous week, month, and year figures for analysis. The high and low for 1964 is also shown.

MARKET SUMMARY

DECEMBER 16, 1964

By Russell Brown

THIS week saw a gradual deceleration of the general slump which hit the market several weeks ago. There appeared to be some slight signs of attempted recovery among select issues, but on an overall basis, the market is still reaching for a bottom and is not there yet.

Lincoln cents saw some quiet buying with a Coin World article on the small date Philadelphia issue sparking a tremendous boom of interest in that issue. The bid on this scarce roll jumped $25 pointing up the truth of the article that the small date P is indeed not held anywhere in quantity. Elsewhere in the cents, declines outnumbered advances two to one but the point remains that seven issues did advance, and this was one half of the advances for the entire market.

Jefferson nickels were comparatively inactive when rated against last week's selloff. Interest in the 1950-D caused that the king to move up twenty dollars, recovering some of its $90 loss of the preceding week. All other price changes in the series were minute.

Dimes, quarters and half dollars seemed to lose their popularity in unison this week with the three series scoring two advances against 42 declines. The magic of the silver market no longer appears able to hold up these sagging rolls. The largest loser of the three was the 1950-S Roosevelt dime dropping $50. The 1942-S quarter lost $25. All other losses were one digit.

It appears that many of the late date rolls of silver are slowly moving back to face value. This has been particularly evident in the dimes and halves during recent weeks. In the quarters, the big losers are the middle dates of the early and late fifties.

Morgan and Peace dollars have been completely quiet with few transactions or price changes noted. In the Morgan series, the land of the rich rolls, the largest change was a five dollar decline by the 1903-O. As a matter of fact, only the P's and the O's are changing price these days. However, with the knowledge out of the hoards of CC's in the Treasury, we would imagine that Treasury action could spark some rather monstrous price moves in one direction or another.

Proof sets are "cracking the whip" price wise with the late date sets continuing their gradual decline and the early sets jumping back up to their previous prices whenever several of a date are bid for. It is obvious just how thin the market is for the pre 1950 sets when one purchaser desiring several sets can move the price as much as ten per cent in a day's time. But the later sets such as the 1956 to date are suffering from severe lethargy and with no 1965 U. S. sets to stir them, may be in for a long sleep.

Circulated coinage is going through a slow selloff. This week, there was a general adjustment in the Washington quarters and Franklin half dollars continued their slow reduction.

The Market Opinion

One thing we have noticed over the past several weeks, sort of out of the corner of the eye, so to speak, is the rise in price of gold yet another notch. As many of you may remember, the standard gold content coin, the double eagle, was selling in the low forties only a few years ago. Only a matter of months ago, the standard dealer wholesale on a B.U. St. Gaudens or Liberty double eagle was $46. But in the past several weeks, we have seen more and more bids creeping up to the $48 level. It appears that you now have to have some real good connections to purchase these hard-to-get coins for less than $47.50.

The question of the value of a double eagle is, of course, tied together with the value of silver and the value of the U. S. dollar. There are those who persist in saying that the U. S. government will be forced to devalue the dollar in the near future. If this comes to pass, the double eagle will jump over night to a value of about $80. And there is one thing about gold that you can't say about rolls of current date junk. It never goes down. True, the gains have been gradual over the past several years, but gold is certainly always going to be of value and the U. S. eagles and double eagles will always retain their value as both bearers of the precious metal and as beautiful examples of our coinage.

American Numismatics Exchange Transactions

BU Roll Prices as of Wednesday, Dec. 16, 1964

These bid and asked prices, from the American Numismatic Exchange Inc., do not necessarily represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these coins could have been sold (indicated by the "bid") or bought (indicated by the "asked") at the time of compilation. Price changes are obtained by comparison of weekly bid prices.

Prices are wholesale quotations compiled from the American Numismatic Exchange teletype system which serves 195 coin dealers across the country.

Silver

constant — was established on April 2, 1792, by an act of Congress setting up the monetary system of the United States under the Constitution.

Consumption vs. Production
Free World 1963 Consumption
(In Millions of Ounces)
Coinage Use:
United States .... 111.3
Other countries .. 60.9
Canada ..... 13.4
France ..... 12.0

West Germany 40.5
Japan ..... 20.0
Others ..... 35.0

Total industrial use 247.0
Total consumption 419.2
(Note: This figure is likely to be considerably higher for 1964.)

Production
(In Millions of Ounces)
Newly mined production:
United States ... 37.0
Rest of West.
Hemisphere .... 122.5
Mexico ..... 43.0
Canada ..... 30.0
Peru ..... 38.0

Others ..... 7.7

Outside West.
Hemisphere .... 51.0
Total new production 210.5
World deficit ..... 208.7
Other Supplies of Silver
This world deficit had to be filled from previously mined silver, most of which last year came from the silver held by the U. S. Treasury.

U. S. coinage silver from Treasury stocks .. 111.3
U. S. Treasury silver 23.0
Includes silver certificates retired, silver sold to other U. S. Government agencies.

Stocks of foreign governments ..... 10.0
Demonetized coin .. 15.0
Liquidation of speculative hold'gs 40.0
Salvage and other misc. sources .... 9.4
Total ..... 208.7

U. S. Production
Most of the world's supply of new silver is now obtained as a by-product in mining zinc, copper and lead. The scarcity of straight silver mines complicates the problem of increasing the production of the metal independent of demand for the other metals with which silver is associated. The following examination of U. S. silver sources typifies the problem:

Tot. U.S. silver mined in '63 ..... 37 mil. oz.
Sources (in percentages):
By-product of copper ore ..... 30
By-product of lead ore ..... 12
By-product of zinc ore ..... 5
By-product of complex ores ..... 20
(combinations of copper, lead, zinc)
Silver mines ..... 33

U. S. Coinage
The coins currently issued by the United States are standard silver dollars, subsidiary silver coins in denominations of 50c (half dollar), 25c (quarter) and 10c (dime), and minor coins in denominations of 5c and 1c.

Metal content and gross weight of silver coins now issued are as follows:

Metal Content and Gross Weight of Silver Coins

Metal	Gross
Deno- Content in Grains* Wgt* in mination Silver Copper Grains
The dollar..	371.25 41.25 412.50
Half dollar..	173.61 19.29 192.90
Quarter ....	86.805 9.645 96.45
Dime .....	34.722 3.858 38.58

* Troy weights are used: 480 grains to an ounce.

Silver bullion containing 900 parts of pure silver and 100 parts of copper alloy is used for silver coins.

U. S. silver coins containing an ounce of pure silver have the following dollar values:

* Standard silver dollar ..... $1.2929 plus

* Subsidiary silver coins ..... $1.3824 plus (Half dollar, quarter, dime)

Thus, if the price of silver should rise above these figures, the silver content would be worth more than the face value.

U. S. Silver Coinage in Circulation
(U.S. Mint - Feb. 1964)

Kind	Per
Standard	Amount
silver dollar..	$459,358,640
Subsidiary	$2.40
silver .....	$1,870,957,465

The estimate of silver contained in silver coinage now in circulation is:
